

AJ Construction, Inc.

AJ Construction, Inc. has been building homes in Southern Utah for over 20 years. Austin Anderson started the company in 1994. AJ Construction has their own concrete and framing crews to help the building process continue without many bumps in the road. We strive to help the client with their vision for their dream home. AJ believes in the hands-on approach and keeping the construction site clean during the process. We value our relationships with our clients and subcontractors.
