

Wright Homes

Wright Homes began in 1995 as a father and son team. Wright Homes primary goal is building homes and neighborhoods that will last the test of time and provide comfort with cutting edge design at a value where quality is not compromised. Wright Homes is dedicated to their "custom home builders" Utah legacy. After decades in the construction industry Wright Homes has brought their characteristic styling to a new level with their first-time entry in The St. George Parade of Homes. This home has echoes of Frank Lloyd Wright's Prairie Style Architecture bringing a distinctive look to Cottam Cove. The stunning design continues in the interior, giving this home a singular look distinguishing it from the competition.
